

BUILDING A COMMUNICATION CULTURE AT YOUR SCHOOL

with Masters Academy

1

You have decided to bring communication skills to your school.

2

You immerse yourself in our free educational resources.

3

You attend one of our accredited professional development seminars.

5

Students ask for opportunities to practice their new skills, so you enter various competitions and events with our support.

You book one of our student incursions during class time.

6

Wanting to facilitate ongoing development, you organise one of our communication clubs for students.

7

Seeing the popularity of your club, you book a full year communication course for multiple classes.

8

With all of this now happening regularly, along with friendly events and wholehearted support from your school community, your communication culture is healthy and growing!
